> The editor of the Courier took in the street fair at Moberly last Saturday, and is now more firmly impressed than ever with the belief that Keytesville ought to have one. A street fair affords an excellent opportunity for exhibits by local merchants and also for displays of agriculture, horriculture, poultry, live il stock, etc. Certainly no county in the state can surpass Chariton in these respects, and our light should not be kept under a bushel. It is a little late for this year, but let's begin to get ready now to have a big show
